

Q: A lot is said about Hellenistic sculpture of the fourth and third century BC. Were there no important contributions by sculptors later in the Hellenistic period?

A: Art historians tend to describe later Hellenistic sculpture as lacking in innovation and relatively repetitive in style, as well as inferior in quality of conception and execution.

Tags: Hellenistic Period